

Author Proposal

Prior to submitting materials to our office, we ask that you take some time to become aware of our unique publishing house and the niche we serve in this industry. You may find this information on our web page (www.nlpg.com) or through our catalog. No submission will be considered without the completion of this Author Proposal. If you have not heard back from us within 90 days of your submission, you can know that we are not able to partner with you on your current manuscript.

To help ensure your inquiry will be reviewed, please utilize the following author checklist:

Author Proposal form (please include two sample chapters of your manuscript or two weeks' worth of lessons if curriculum)

Proposal in line with our mission and based on the books in our catalog or our website.

(Note that we do not print personal stories or poetry.)

DEFINING STATEMENT

Describe in one or two sentences what is unique about your manuscript. This is not necessarily a synopsis, but it should define the purpose and singularity of your work. (e.g., “Here is the most detailed analysis of all aspects of creation/evolution in one volume for the layperson.”)

FOREWORD and ENDORSEMENTS

Do you have contacts with any well-known personalities who would write a foreword or endorsement for your book? Please list the name(s) here and tell us of your association with these contacts.

COMPETITION

What other books have been published that are similar to your own, and how is your work different from them? Please seek out this information from online sources or through your local library.
